The Peaceful City

The city of NGOs & Mangoes

Apart from high academic standards and healthy atmosphere, many families send their children to MMC & MDC because of the peaceful nature of the city. The city of Mirpurkhas, which in ancient times used to be the glorified Kaho Jo Daro, the capital of magnificent empire of Indus civilization, is one of the most peaceful cities of Pakistan. The history shifted to the point where it became the capital of Mirs' Sindh. Apart from the fascinating history, Mirpurkhas holds its position high as a city where people from all walks of life live with peace and harmony. It is also called the city of Mangoes. Today, its golden history includes the name of the largest non government educational and medical trust of Sindh outside Karachi, the MFT.

DR. SYED ALI MUHAMMAD

Founder Chairman and Patron, MFT

These lines were not written as message but you judge for yourself, what could be a better message than this.

Life is a strange phenomenon. Whether you do good things or bad things or nothing, it moves on. Time flies. Children become boys & girls, then young adults, then middle aged and then old people. (Shakespeare will count 7 stages, others less or more), but nevertheless, before you know, you are heading towards eternity, leaving all your loved ones and houses and land and earnings behind. That is because you never owned them. As Mir has said “Yeh hi jana keh kuch na jana haye. So bhi ik umr mein hua maloom”. However one thing is certain. If you do what you have been asked to do and refrain from what you have been forbidden with, Someone ensures that your beloveds are properly taken care of, your name stays prestigious and your deeds carry on. I do not know if I would be able to see the seeds of my institutions of knowledge and treatment turning into full fledged trees, but I am sure that God almighty never lets any sincere effort go wasted. So I am sure that my and your children and all the future children of Mirpurkhas, Sindh and Pakistan will witness Muhammad Medical College, Institutes and Hospitals turning into centers of excellence and will be fully benefitted by these institutions. And perhaps I will also witness from somewhere high up, my and your children smiling in these places. May God grant MMC, MMCH and MIST all the recognition and success that these institutes truly deserve. AMEEN

Dr. S. Ali Muhammad left for his eternal abode soon after these lines. MMDC & MMCH were granted recognition by PMC Seven and half Months after his departure, realizing his dream. Principal MMDC

Registrar Muhammad Medical College Mirpurkhas

It gives me great pleasure to write these lines for the prospectus of MMC & MDC. it will provide good guidance to students who wish to pursue medical education in a great institution. MMDC is established in one of the most peaceful cities of Pakistan. in an era of restlessness where parents wish to send their sons and daughters to pursue medical career, yet they are worried about the intolerance and insecurity prevalent in big cities, Mirpurkhas provides an ideal placed. more over, MMDC has within the campus, a 600 bedded hospital recognized by PMC and CPSP for training. This is a charitable hospital hence patients are very accommodative to Medical Students and this greatly enhances the opportunities of Clinical Learning.

All students of fourteen batches, who have passed the final year examination have enrolled with the PMC and are either practicing or training for postgraduate qualifications in Pakistan, Middle East, UK, USA and other countries. Students get the degree from LUMHS, jamshoro which is one the most renowned Universities of Pakistan. Hence whichever part of the world the students go, they are welcomed and never encounter any problem in jobs, training admissions in postgraduate courses.

MEDICAL SYMPOSIUM

GASTROENTEROLOGY

Student led activity is an advanced form of Medical Education. Opportunities to enhance such activities are scarce in Pakistan. This deprives intelligent and able students of chance to grow and show their talents.

Muhammad Medical College is acutely aware of this problem. This is why it places due importance to initial and advanced medical education. Once the students are advanced enough, it allows them to take part in educational activities as teachers and researchers for their training.

As part of promoting students to grow into future doctors and medical educationists, MMC organizes several formal and informal activities every year. This year also, MMC organized a 2 day long Mini Symposium and Seminar in Gastroenterology and Hepatology.

On Wednesday the 3rd of July, the Annual Mini Symposium was held for the 7th Year in succession. The theme of these symposia has been "students-as-teachers". Students were divided into groups of 4 students each, and were given tasks to educate fellow students and others, including their own teachers. Topics included a variety of important medical and surgical problems. Students were invited to talk about their topics to the audience, which included fellow senior medical students junior doctors and senior clinicians. With the help of multimedia presentations, one student of every group talked about the topics. This was followed by questions and answers and lively discussion among the presenters and participants. Students also presented their topics in the form of scientific posters and presented their topics to the other students and to a group of independent judges, comprising senior clinicians.

The next day, the 4th of July, Mirpurkhas Seminar in Gastroenterology and Hepatology was held. This is the 12th consecutive year that Muhammad Medical College & Hospital has been holding this seminar. Senior clinicians presented high quality updates on important topics of medicine, surgery, gynae and paeds which were related to Gastroenterology and Hepatology. Programme started with recitation from the Holy Quran by Vice Principal of the college Professor Dr.

Shamsul Arfeen Khan. Professor Dr. Syed Zafar Abbas gave an introduction of the programme to the audience. A large number of senior medical students, junior doctors, senior clinicians and teachers attended the seminar Professor Dr. Abdul Qadir Khan talked about Hepatitis virus B. He discussed the diagnosis and management issues of this condition with the help of various guidelines. Professor Hasan Memon educated the audience on constipation in children. He discussed different causes of constipation in children, their assessment and management. He emphasized on the role of diet in its cause and management. Professor Aijaz Memon threw light on recent advances in colorectal cancer. With reference to various guidelines, he updated the audience of current understanding and practice. Professor Amna Memon discussed various Gastroenterology related problems in pregnancy. She emphasized upon the importance of joint clinical care provided to those patients by obstetricians and gastroenterologists. Dr. Nand Lal Seerani from Liaquat University of Medical & Health Sciences talked about Hepatitis C. with the help of various Pakistani and international guidelines he gave awareness of various management issues. He interacted with medical students about various clinical scenarios. Professor Dr. Syed Zafar Abbas gave a talk on decompensated liver cirrhosis. He described the clinical features and management guidelines, and discussed the prognosis of various situations. Principal of Muhammad Medical College Professor Dr. Syed Razi Muhammad then thanked the speakers and audience. He said that the real excellence in the practice of medicine can only be achieved if the clinician is honest and has empathy. He emphasized on the importance of hard work and assured students that there is no replacement of hard work.

Late on various senior Professors distributed prizes to students and all the speakers were presented with shields and certificates.

BASIC LIFE SUPPORT

Basic Life Support is an essential skill for all current and future doctors. It can be extremely useful when needed in the matter of life and death.

Muhammad Medical College Mirpurkhas fully recognizes this issue and has therefore been regularly organizing Basic Life Support Workshop for its students and doctors. This training is also provided free of cost to any doctors from the city of Mirpurkhas.

On Tuesday the 2nd July 2019 Muhammad Medical College organized its 7th Annual Basic Life Support Workshop at its Mrs Razia Ali Muhammad Auditorium.
